

FileBound Express delivers everything your customer needs for a content management solution right in the box.

Are you looking for a solution to sell that your prospects want to buy and that you can make money selling?

FileBound Express is your Solution! An easy to understand and deployable solution that won't degrade all your margin in specialized sales staff and expensive technical resources.

Forget about selling software, recommending hardware, and providing complex installation services. The traditional approach to content management solutions typically leads to long sales cycles, requires specialized resources, and adds an element of risk to your business operations. The majority of your prospects simply want a system that solves the hassles and cost associated with managing their office documents, and without the complexities and cost of having to deal with all the underlying technology.

FileBound Express provides the right solution to sales organizations like yours. We take a fresh approach by offering the solution in the form of a network appliance. Well, what is a network appliance and why does that make a difference? Here's how it works, we take a time proven 3rd generation content management solution called FileBound preload it on a small form factor appliance that includes everything else you need including the Windows operating system and database, scanning software, the ability to import from office copiers or Microsoft office applications, a backup process, and the antivirus software. It's everything you need right there in the box. It's a prepackaged end to end solution which makes it easy for your sales staff and your prospects to get their arms about it, to understand it, and to realize the benefits that it can deliver.

Packaging is one thing, but for this program to be successful it must also be easy to implement! To get started your customer simply takes the appliance out of the box and plugs it into the network. They then take the included setup CD to any network attached computer and run the configuration wizard which sets up the records the way they want to store them on the system, it establishes authorized users, and allows them to setup office copiers for scanning. This configuration module was built to minimize the technical resources required to successfully implement this solution. A typical setup takes less than a few minutes allowing you retain the margin you made on the original sale.

FileBound Express provides all the ongoing support that your customer needs to be successful with the solution. We provide 1 or 3 year extended warranties on the solution. This includes advanced hardware replacement and unlimited help desk access.
